

INSIDER THREAT

Do you suspect that an internal user is doing things on your network that is against your user policy?

Our team of experts have hardware and software tools that are placed on your network which will help gather evidence of the user's activities on a daily basis. A corporation must ensure that their "Network Use Policy" defines what is allowed and what is not allowed to be done by their users. Please give our "Insider Threat" group a call.

Our team can perform all tasking (including placing hardware in your internal network) completely undetected by your users. This is accomplished by coming in at night as janitorial staff (for example) or by coming in during the day as building maintenance personnel. This can be worked out with executives or staff that hire our team of dedicated individuals. Our tools will not add any risk to your network. Our tools have been tested for security measures being tight and stealthy against the chance of discovery.

This service is accomplished on a case by case basis depending on your company's needs.

For more information, please call the Futures Inc team today to discuss your company's options. We look forward to hearing from you.
