

Internal Network Collection & Analysis

Do you know

Internal network collection and analysis is an in-depth security process for improving your network security. By cataloguing and characterizing the information traversing your organization's network, you will gain a new perspective on what's really taking place on your network. Internal network collection and analysis can reveal sensitive information leaving your network, unwanted applications using up your bandwidth, malicious insiders working against corporate interests, peer-to-peer file sharing services, and much more.

what is happening

Only Futures Inc. has the automated analytic tools developed specifically to analyze internal network traffic, which will help you improve your network security. Futures Inc. has a large investment in an innovative analytic process that sorts and organizes large volumes of network traffic into meaningful information you can use to tighten your defenses.

on your network?

Don't stay in the dark when it comes to your internal network security. Contact Futures Inc. today to discuss your network security goals and how a Futures Inc. Internal Network Collection and Analysis initiative can boost your security.

www.futures-inc.com

FUTURES

inc.

Phone: (410) 340-4033
Fax: (410) 489-7857